In General

In each lesson we will learn the theoretical explanation regarding the subject of the lesson. We will meditate to help us enter into a creative-learning mode and/or we will go through a personal initiation process.

We will practice a different channeling technique in each lesson.

This process is personal so you will be guided in the way that meets your personal development.

It is highly recommended to practice what we have learned as much as possible.

Few words from me

This process is personal, it takes time, patience, and a lot of practice in order to achieve good results.

Knowing the theory is the first step, but the most important part is personal experience.

Each one of us is in a different stage in our life. We are all affected by our life events and our emotional experiences.

My advice to you is to pay attention to yourself, connect with your heart and with your guide's advice. And at the same time, don't forget that you are not alone and you can always get support from me.

Good luck and don't forget to have fun along the way!

Love always,

Chagai Kats
